PAUL HYMANS TO HEAD LEAGUE OF NATIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

GENEVA, Nov. 15.—M. Paul Hymans, former Premier of Belgium, was elected President of the League of Nations assembly today. He received thirty-five of the forty-two votes. One hundred delegates representing forty-two states and over half the world's population, were present when the assembly went into session today. Prolonged applause greeted mention of the name of President Wilson. Today's session was to be occupied with routine affairs.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Nov. 15.—Selection of Senators Harry New of Indiana as postmaster general, and Will Hays as successor to New in the Senate is understood to be strongly favored by Republican party leaders here for a rest from the strenuous presidential campaign. The arrangement, it was said, will allow Hays to continue as chairman of the Republican national committee.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NEWS

GREAT SERMON PREACHED ON SUNDAY MORNING BY DR. H. H. SHAWHAN

NEW ERA MOVEMENT

WORK IS NOT NEW EXCEPIT IN EFFORT TO PUT INTO IT GREATER FORCE

(Communicated)

Rev. H. H. Shawhan, D. D., of Kansas City, Mo., preached at the morning service in the Presbyterian church, coming as an ambassador of the general assembly. He expressed his great pleasure in bringing to us the greetings of the assembly and the heads of the church, and his gratification at finding here the organized forms of the new era working in a high state of development.

The new era work is not new in its essential spirit, except in the sense of being a new effort and arrangement to put into greater force and efficiency the working power of the church. The committee suggested for this autumn the program that every church be visited, counselled with and aided in a forward movement. Two things were troubling the heads of this work. First, the slowness of the general church in making a forward movement. Two years ago there was a common slump in growth—a falling backward. Then came the beginning of new effort, and last year there appeared again some gain. This year has brought more of gain, yet is not nearly up to the measure which it should have been. Nevertheless, ambassadors going about among the churches find in actuality more of vital activity and promise than would seem.

The second anxiety was as to the adequate financial support of the great forward movement for world evangelization. Wherefore the need of this campaign of visitation to make all the churches aware of the needs. This is a great time for us, a time of responsibility and of promise.

Just before the war a visit was made to Palestine. A rough, rugged country it is. Hills, hills, hills! One especially great hill could be seen from every direction. The guide said, "There's an old city over there, Safed." It was the place Jesus was looking at when He said, "A city set upon a hill cannot be hid." It was the church He was talking about. Yet the church never hitherto has been like that. Now the time has come to give the church a chance. In meeting men at large one finds they are more willing and eager to talk of the great and deep things of life

IS RESPLENDENT WITH HUES OF AUTUMN AT OPENING SATURDAY

Many Glendale friends attended the formal opening of the Glendale Florist shop, 120 South Brand boulevard, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly received many compliments and congratulations on the artistic arrangement of their display, in which the rich autumnal colors predominated.

A climbing vine over the lattice separating the display room from the workroom reminded one of the vines "back East" when Jack Frost arrays them in brilliant hues. The windows were resplendent with masses of great shaggy chrysanthemums, one of royal purple, the other golden yellow. A number of fantail gold fish in an aquarium in the purple window were the touch that made a pleasing note of contrast and happy canaries in golden cages above the flowers in each window sang solos, duets and choruses to entertain the guests.

Beautiful varieties of cyclamen, pom-pom chrysanthemums in a variety of deep colorings, red cosmos and an unusual foliage plant, besides the usual roses, carnations and ferns, were among the plants that attracted the attention of the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly are well known in Glendale, their nursery and florist shop having been established here for some time. They had a display room next door to their present one, but moved to this location in the Glendale Theatre building because of its greater attractiveness and suitability for their line of work. They promise that they will give Glendale a flower shop second to none in Los Angeles.

Buildings Ready

New buildings approaching completion, as indicated by applications for electric light meter installation, most of them residences, are as follows: I. B. Reichenbach, 1514 Gardena Ave.; Mrs. E. O. Jewell, Camulos Ave.; Frank P. Stone, 419 North Broadway; J. H. Heinmiller, 124 Sycamore Canyon Blvd.; Howard L. Brown, 406 North Maryland Ave.; J. F. Smith, 227 North Kenwood; Miss Gertrude Champlain, 443 Hawthorne; Olga J. Lofftus, 1240 East Harvard; J. T. Bushore, 1304 East Harvard; E. C. Roberts, 461 West Windsor road.

Successful Sale

The ladies of the Lutheran church held a very successful food and fancy work sale at the rectory on Harvard avenue on Friday and Saturday.

Luncheon and evening dinner were served on both days, and as the fame of the cooking of these ladies had gone abroad, the patronage their meals received was very flattering.

Many articles of needlework, useful and beautiful, were sold, also.

REGIONAL CONFERENCE

W. C. T. U. OF BURBANK, VAN NUYS AND GLENDALE HOLD SESSION AT BURBANK

STATE OFFICERS

GIVE INTERESTING AND INSPIRING TALKS TO LARGE, ATTENTIVE AUDIENCE

By MRS. G. H. MORTON

Burbank, Van Nuys and Glendale W. C. T. U. held a very interesting and enthusiastic Regional Conference Nov. 10th at Atherton Villa, the beautiful and spacious building erected in Burbank for retired Baptist ministers and their families.

The morning session was opened at 10:30 by the presiding officer, Mrs. Marie M. Yoeman, of Glendale, county president of the organization.

The conference was privileged to have present the state president, Mrs. Helen M. Stoddart; Mrs. Hattie C. Young, state recording secretary, also state jubilee campaign worker; Mrs. Jennie Thompson, state campaign worker, and Mrs. Ruby J. Smart, state superintendent of world's work in temperance and missions, all of whom made forceful, inspiring and optimistic addresses.

Following is a brief outline of this important meeting, which was opened by singing, "Work for Enforcement Where You Are."

Mrs. Winger, president of Burbank Union, cordially welcomed the speakers, members and friends present; she also had charge of the devotional service. The scripture lesson was along the line of thanksgiving, with this significant theme: To think and to thank have the same root word. We are not taking time to think and to thank as we ought. Our nation will always be great if we continue to thank our God, but if we do not it will decay.

At this time, Mrs. Yoeman introduced the state president, Mrs. Helen M. Stoddart, who graciously responded in her usual pleasing manner. Mrs. Stoddart spoke of the great international congress against alcoholism which convened in Washington, D. C., recently, to which she was a delegate.

Fourteen annual congresses have been held in Europe. There were five hundred delegates, coming from every civilized, semi-civilized, Christian and non-Christian land at this conference; it was the first time the sessions were opened with scripture reading and prayer, significantly marking a step forward.

The president of the new union at Van Nuys was presented and made some very encouraging remarks; she predicted that with the eighty noble women back of her great things would be done.

The next to speak was the county president, Mrs. Marie M. Yoeman, who is a most capable, forceful and pleasing speaker. Her subject was "Responsibility." As a basis for her remarks she chose the text from Gal. 6 chapter, 5th verse, saying in part: We are our brother's keeper; the one word she would write on the gate posts and fence posts was responsibility. Motherhood and fatherhood nowdays are shirking responsibility. Many of us are cowards, shirking our responsibility. God never asks of us anything we cannot do. By act and by word we are responsible. The more influence we have, the greater the responsibility. If we do not put ourselves in a position to inform ourselves, we are shirking our great responsibility. In conclusion, Mrs. Yoeman said: "We, as individuals, are responsible for the success of our organization. We are responsible to everyone of God's creatures. We have succeeded because we are a Christian organization. Experience is teaching us that our work is not over. We

GRIM RELIC OF TRAIN ROBBER

RUSTED REVOLVER DUG UP IN BACK YARD OF JESSIE JAMES HOMESTEAD

GUN IS STILL LOADED

TWO OF THE FIVE CHAMBERS IN CYLINDER CONTAIN CARTRIDGES

With its barrel rusted off, trigger gone, hammer a minus quantity, and cylinder fast fixed, a grim reminder of tragedies long since faded from the minds of many, lies on the desk in Jack Lucas' real estate office at 309 South Brand. It was dug up in the back yard at Jesse James' old home in northwest Missouri, where it is supposed it was thrown in an attempt, after one of the numerous train robberies pulled off by the James gang, to remove incriminating evidence. Jesse and Frank James, like the Younger boys, Cole and Bob, with whom they consorted, were members of a guerilla gang, Quantrell's, which infested Missouri and Kansas in the closing days of the Civil war. After the end of the war this gang continued their depredations and when finally broken up a few of the most desperate formed small marauding parties and robbed trains, banks and stores. One of these parties was the Younger-James gang, which for several years continued a career of crime. Finally, all were captured and given penitentiary sentences except Jesse James, and he was killed at last in his own home by a former member of the gang, a young fellow named Bob Ford, who was promised immunity from prosecution if he would betray or capture Jesse. But so great was his fear of the bandit that he chose to kill rather than capture him. He went to the James home when he knew Jesse was to visit his mother. Engaging him in friendly conversation, Ford asked for a closer view of a picture hanging on the wall. Jesse got on a chair and was reaching up to detach the picture when Ford shot him in the back of the head, killing him instantly.

The little old revolver mentioned is a five-shooter and has two cartridges yet in the cylinder. It is owned by J. A. May, who came here a few months ago from Coronado and has acquired considerable property. He formerly lived in Missouri, close to the James home, and secured possession of this rusted relic some years ago.

Dinner Dance

Twenty couples responded to invitations sent out by Mrs. Jack Thomas of the White Inn to attend a dinner dance, given by her Saturday evening. Pepper boughs were twined in and out of the lattice work and table bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums added to the festive appearance of the occasion.

The cement floor had been thoroughly waxed, which made it splendid for dancing. A most delectable four-course dinner was served, which proved conclusively the skill of the hostess in catering to the public. Dancing was then enjoyed until midnight. Splendid music was furnished by Whaley's orchestra. Everyone had such a good time that many anxious queries of "When will the next one be?" were heard. Mrs. Thomas is planning another of these parties to be held in the near future, invitations for which will be out within a week.

Iowa Guests Expected

Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin White are looking forward to the arrival soon of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frisbee, relatives of theirs, whose howe is in Sheldon, Iowa.

The Frisbees will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. White for a time, and will spend part of the winter in Long Beach, where they have made reservations at The Terry. They will also be entertained by relatives in Hollywood.

Cupid's Dart Hits Home

One of the popular young couples of this city to fall victims to Hymen, the god of marriage, were Elmer S. Flower, son of J. H. Flower, and Virginia Olmstead, daughter of Frank H. Olmstead of 1431 North Pacific avenue. The wedding took place in Los Angeles just recently, and Mr. and Mrs. Flower are making their home at Ocean Park.

Birthday Party

One of the delightful parties given recently was that in honor of the 19th birthday of Albert Townsend at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Townsend, of 807 North Brand boulevard. About thirty-five classmates from Loyola college, Los Angeles, were the guests. The house was beautifully decorated in vari-colored dahlias and greenery. A colored orchestra from Los Angeles furnished music for dancing. Refreshments consisting of ice cream, birthday cake and other dainties were enjoyed. Delicious punch was served throughout the evening.

HOLDS OPENING

WAIDELICH ELECTRIC SHOP DEMONSTRATES HOUSEHOLD HELPS

The A. G. Waidelich Electric shop, 124 South Brand boulevard, made its formal bow to Glendale on Saturday, extending its hospitality to interested citizens all during the afternoon and evening.

This is the newest addition to the several very good shops where Glendale housewives may obtain electrical "household assistants."

The pretty color scheme of king's blue and dull bronze which Mrs. Waidelich has chosen for the shop makes an effective setting for the shining electrical apparatus which she demonstrated with a woman's appreciation of their value, to all who came. The blue rug and blue draperies were not merely matters of good taste, but they were of use, also, in demonstrating the vacuum sweeper. The water for the tea which she served her guests was boiled on an electric hotplate.

The bronze note was emphasized by a large basket of golden-brown chrysanthemums in a blue and bronze basket, whose arched handle supported a gauze ribbon with the word "Success" in golden letters. This was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly, of the Glendale Florist shop, who held their opening on the same day, but were not too busy to think of this courtesy to their neighbors, the Waidelichs. The Western Electric Co., of Los Angeles, also sent flowers to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Waidelich, their gift being a great bunch of fragrant red roses.

Washing machines, that do the rubbing in twenty minutes; ironing machines, that accomplish the feat of a four hours' ironing in one hour, ironing eighty-five per cent of the household wash—everything, nearly, except ruffled pieces—a dishwasher that washes, rinses and dries the dishes in eight minutes; a sewing machine driven by an electric motor, doing away with the tiring task of pedaling; the electric iron that is so common now its praises need not be sung—all these things and more did Mrs. Waidelich demonstrate at the opening Saturday, thus doing her share in persuading her sister-women that it is a mistaken sense of self-sacrifice to "do without" electrical labor-savers, and also poor business policy, for the release from drudgery which electrical helps in the home give, means better health, more cheer to radiate to one's family, more energy to do other things for them, and a broader life.

SPIDERS AS AERONAUTS

THEY ANTEDATED BY MANY CENTURIES MAN'S CONQUEST OF THE AIR

FLY INSTINCTIVELY

NOT WITH WINGS OR PLANES, BUT ON FILAMENTS SELF SPUN

By ALFRED COOKMAN

Man is adapted by nature to move upon the earth's surface. Yet, in fancy, he has always been an aeronaut. Man's one dream has been to fly. "Oh that I had wings like a dove! for then would I fly away," said the psalmist. Montgolfier with his balloon made the first practical step towards the fulfillment of this dream. Since his day men have puzzled over and planned a dirigible balloon or aeroplane.

The spider, a representative invertebrate animal, like man is a terragrade. Like man, she can overstep nature's bounds and move over or through the water. Like man, she has invaded the air and essays to fly; though, also like man, she falls short of directing her mimic air-ship, and, in chief at least, drifts before the wind. Among the nine orders of representative arachnida, we have among the typical spider group a family of "flying spiders." They have none of the natural gifts of winged creatures for progress through the air, but are able to overcome gravity, mount aloft and make long aerial journeys.

Spider ballooning is not limited to any period of the year, but the sea-

Goodyear Prices Drop

A price decline of great interest to motorists is that announced in this issue by the Monarch Auto Supply Co., who deal so extensively in Goodyear tires.

The Goodyear Company is the last to announce a drop in tire prices and it is safe to assume that both the dealers and the general public will welcome the reduction.

This is convincing proof that prices in general must come down.

A Radiantfire is attractive as well as economical and effective.

has more penetrating and warming quality than heat from any other agency. You will notice this superiority as soon as you feel Radiantfire warmth.

Constructed on a new principle which enables you to have heat, from gas, available as you have light. It throws heat rays like sun rays into the room without any noise or odor.

R. C. Horner has moved from 138 S. Adams to 240 North Belmont.

Miss Ruth Walton, who is teaching at Puente, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents at 557 West Milford street.

N. E. Otis has moved from 324 Salem to Visalia and Mrs. I. M. Shirmer from 925 North Louise to Santa Monica.

Mrs. Lewell Craig of the Grand View district is entertaining her father, Wm. Craig, who motored down from Modesto.

The Central Christian church has recently purchased the lot adjoining their property on the east and now have three lots, each 50x150, facing on Colorado.

Mrs. Ronald De Riemer of Simi, formerly Miss Gladys Mason of Glendale, was the week-end guest of Miss Marion Gamble, 1028 South Glendale avenue.

Mrs. W. M. Crawford, of 800 South Central avenue, will attend the annual inspection of the Daughters of Veterans Tent, in Fullerton, this evening. Mrs. Crawford is department color bearer.

Mrs. Katherine Fenstermaker of 221½ East Maple street entertained as her Sunday dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Helfenstein and daughters, Gertrude and Dorothy, formerly of Glendale, but who now reside in Pasadena.

One of the largest tracts of land to be subdivided recently and placed on the market is that which extends from the Southern Pacific tracks to the river. This is bounded by Silver Lake and Park avenues. Brand boulevard and Los Feliz road afford easy access. The sale of this property has been placed in the hands of a real estate firm so as to close the W. C. B. Richardson estate. The subdivision of this property will be the means of accommodating many of the new people who continue pouring into Glendale.

FIRST METHODIST

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT SUNDAY SCHOOL AND MORNING SERVICE

There was a record attendance Sunday at the First Methodist church both in the Sunday school, which numbered four hundred and ninety, and in the church service when the auditorium was almost completely filled. Dr. Crist's sermon in the morning was on the theme, "After the Vision—What?" Choosing his text as James 4:17, To him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not to him it is sin. Dr. Crist said in part: "There never was a day when the church of Jesus Christ had so nearly gotten the vision. In the midst of a world running wild after pleasure, amid the noise of commerce and the dizzy whirl of sensationalism, the church hears today, as never before, the words of Christ as they come across the centuries, 'Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel.'

"It is a matter of sincere congratulation," said Mr. Crist, "that the church is no longer using her resources to antagonize herself. The days of narrow denominationalism and petty bigotry are past. The day of federation is at hand. The church's impress upon the world was never more evident. This is the best day the world has ever seen and tomorrow will be better.

"God's truth," said the preacher, "is gradually finding its way into human life and institutions. All history has been a stepping forward and a climbing upward. That which is below the standard of the cross is being eliminated.

"In the last few decades the old religions of the heathen world are crumbling away. That which once satisfied is now wholly inadequate and heathenism is saying with the ancient Greeks, 'Sirs, we would see Jesus.'

"This is a great day of privilege," said Mr. Crist, "but also a great day of obligation. Never could so much be accomplished for the Kingdom and never did God demand more of His church. As we face the facts and get the vision, what will be our attitude? It is better not to have had the vision, than having had it, to refuse its expression. To know and not to act is destructive of the finest sensibilities of God's highest creation. 'To him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not to him it is sin.'"

In closing, Rev. Crist set forth some ways in which the church of the present day must co-operate so as to give to all the world that which is of such inestimable value. Especially did he present the bible teaching of the tithe as binding upon the Christian church. "If the Jew," said he, "was duty bound to give a tenth of his income to the cause of God in the world, should the Christian, with his more glorious vision, give less?

"In the pre-Christian era the Lord through the prophet Malachi said: 'Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings. Ye are cursed with a curse; for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation. Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.'"

Special Guests

Mrs. Chas. H. Toll and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones were the special guests of the Dominant club of Los Angeles, of which Mrs. Catherine H. Shank, of this city, is president. The Dominant club is composed of seventy-five of the active women musicians of the city of Los Angeles, and is, perhaps, the only organization of its kind in the country. Joseph Lhevinne, world-renowned musician, and Susan M. Dorsey, superintendent of city schools, were the guests of honor at this meeting, which was held Saturday afternoon at the Ebell Club house. Luncheons and teas are given every month, at which all of the great musicians who visit the city are entertained.

RELIEF CORPS

ENTERTAINS G. A. R. COMRADES AND FRIENDS AT SUMPTUOUS DINNER

One of the most pleasant social affairs of the past week was the noon dinner at which the ladies of the Relief Corps were hostesses on Saturday at the Grand Army hall.

About one hundred and fifty guests enjoyed the bounteous repast, whose piece de resistance was chicken with dumplings. Besides G. A. R. comrades, the guest list included a number of department officers and also guests not members of the organization. Among the guests of honor were Commander Kellogg and Mrs. Kellogg, Past Senior Vice-Commander Burlingame, Department President Mrs. Emma French of Los Angeles, her husband and daughter; Senior Aide Mrs. Pearl Melville, Board Member Effie Webster of Sawtelle, Junior Vice-President Mrs. Sweet of Los Angeles, accompanied by her daughter-in-law, and Board Member Mrs. Cook.

Eighty-one guests, including honor guests and the comrades and their wives, sat down to the first table, and the second table accommodated nearly as many more.

Music and speeches, both patriotic in character, were features of the interesting affair. Commander Kellogg gave the address of the day, and Mrs. Kellogg made a brief speech. This was Commander Kellogg's first public speech since his election, for he has just recovered from an illness.

After the dinner there was a short business meeting.

MANY ARE RESPONDING AS WORKERS CALL UPON THEM

The Red Cross Roll Call began in earnest this morning. Mrs. Hayward has received plenty of supplies and the workers may obtain anything they need at headquarters in the Glendale Savings Bank.

The local Post, American Legion, has puchased a $10 sustaining membership in the Red Cross and the individual members have enrolled very largely.

The people are familiar with the wonderful work of this organization and the great need for funds and are responding accordingly.

There is evidence that some of the Southern night riders filled up with gin before they went out to burn cotton gins.

and the soul. There is recognition in high places of the need of the soul. The Wall Street Journal has spoken out for the need of a "revival of old-fashioned prayer meeting religion." It is an encouraging time in which we live. When time was ripe, our church headship was ready to launch the new era movement, and it jumped out into the world full-grown. There are open doors and appeals everywhere, even in the Moslem world.

We must not confuse things. The new era movement is not for raising money, but for saving souls; it is to bring about a spiritual movement, a revival, money being only a means for more work. The first goal that was set was for the bringing in of 300,000 new converts. We are to aim at a great program of coming in touch with souls by individual souls; we need to reach out to the whole community and present the spiritual. The young lad, bringing to fine maturity has first rows of corn, admired and rejoiced over it; he had put himself into his crop. As a man, he put himself, by means of some money, into all the mission countries of the world, and so lived in them.

Everything we have ought to be put into motion. The church too much has been content to be busy with very little things; it ought to be after real great things. In a machine shop a mighty trip-hammer was proudly adjusted to the delicate cracking of an egg; but what foolishness! So, to harness the "all power" of Christ's promise to us to the doing of little baby work—do great work!

SPIDERS

sons when it most prevails are spring or early summer and the autumn after the young have been hatched. The fall is especially the time for flying spiders, and October the month most favored. One writer has said that it is the young of all spiders that carry on this fascinating program and that it is not confined to any one group. The infant aranead, when aloft from its fellows and exposed to a puff of air, seems instinctively to throw out its spinnerets and send forth jets of silken filament, just as a human baby sets in motion its hands and feet. As the jets are soon of sufficient buoyancy to counterbalance the spider's weight, the creature becomes an aeronaut. It is supposed to have been formed and fixed by heredity. It is interesting to watch the mode of ascension. With your back to the sun and lens in hand you may see every move of the adventure.

As the spiderling vaults upward, by a swift motion the body is turned back downward, the rays of floating threads are separated from the spinnerets and grasped by the feet, which also by deft and rapid movements weave a tiny cradle or net of delicate lines, to which the claws cling. In the same movement a second silken thread is ejected and floats out behind, leaving the body of the little voyager balanced on its meshy basket between that and the first filament, which now streams up from the front. Thus the aeronaut's balloon is complete, and she sits or hangs in the middle of it, drifting whither the wind may carry her. She is wholly at the mercy of the breeze. If she should desire to alight among the green grass of the meadow, she will contract the radical threads and draw in her legs, releasing the tension and reducing her buoyancy in the air. The mere weight of the spiderling will influence by gravity and she will drop gracefully to the earth. Gathering in her delicate silken threads and rolling them tenderly into a ball she will seize her balloon and hurry away.

There is always something to take the joy out of life—it will soon be time to think of income tax reports.

Sewer Problems

Other cities besides Glendale are having their sewer problems, as witness the following clipping from a trade paper:

A survey for an outfall sewer to the ocean will be made at once by the cities of Santa Ana and Anaheim acting jointly. City Engineer W. W. Hoy of Santa Ana, and City Engineer O. E. Seward of Anaheim, will have charge of the survey. Estimates of the cost of rights of way and construction will be made and if the project is found feasible steps will be taken to put it through. Sewer Superintendent Walter Wray of Santa Ana, recently warned the city trustees of the necessity for providing some new plan to dispose of the city's sewage as the present facilities are wholly inadequate. The city of Anaheim is in about the same position as it is becoming difficult for it to maintain a sewage farm.

Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Fuelscher and daughters, Misses Annie and Alice, of 114 South Louise street, were week-end guests of Mrs. Fuelscher's sister, Mrs. Evans, in Long Beach, where they participated in several delightful family parties.

On Saturday they were guests at a card party with which Mrs. Evans entertained in honor of the birthday of another sister, Mrs. Arthur Maurer. On Sunday Mrs. Evans was hostess again, giving a dinner in honor of the birthday of her aunt, Mrs. Martha Prouse. Covers were laid for twenty.

CONFERENCE

must stand by our guns until the last man falls."

Mrs. Ruby J. Smart, state superintendent of world temperance and missions, gave a very able and optimistic speech on "World Prohibition." She said in part: "Three hundred thousand of our million dollar jubilee fund will go to sustain the work of our organization, already begun in other lands.

"Thirty-six years ago the World W. C. T. U. was organized on this coast by our illustrious Frances Willard and is now organized in over fifty lands.

"All eyes are upon America today. As goes America, so goes the world. There is no excuse for us to take the awful curse to other lands. The drink question is more to be feared in Africa than slavery. Three die from drink in Africa every minute. Bishop Taylor said, 'We call upon the Christian people of America to prevent sending the liquor traffic to other lands.'"

After announcements and noontide prayer, the session adjourned for lunch, which was served by the Burbank Union, noted for their hospitality.

Afternoon session was opened with song. Devotional service was led by the president of Van Nuys Union.

A special feature of the afternoon program was a question box conducted by Mrs. Hattie C. Young, with questions and answers on many different phases of the work of the W. C. T. U., who also gave a demonstration of the one-dollar dues, saying no other dollar in the world goes so far.

Mrs. Jennie Thompson, who is a very pleasing and efficient speaker, spoke of the beginning or crusade days of the organization. The W. C. T. U. was organized in 1874 with about seventy women. She spoke of the young people's and children's organizations. Many of the prohibition victories are gained today by the children brought up in the Y. P. B. and L. T. L. of yesterday.

Mrs. Hattie C. Young, the next speaker, was introduced as the women of many titles. As one of the state jubilee workers, the forceful and enthusiastic speech was on the importance of our work and the responsibility resting upon each one. She also spoke on the eighteenth amendment to the federal constitution and its enforcement. She said: "The highest social achievement is democracy. To make the world safe for democracy it must be free from the liquor traffic." In conclusion, she gave an earnest and eloquent appeal for the jubilee fund, the campaign for a million dollars to carry on the many activities of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Mrs. Helen M. Stoddart, state president, in her usual efficient and convincing manner, spoke on the subject, "Going the Second Mile, the Extra Mile of Love." We want the first million dollars to kill the liquor traffic in the world.

When anyone has made a success, it is because he went the extra mile.

All present counted it a very pleasant and profitable meeting, which was closed with prayer by the state president.

The World Today

By F. H. VESPER
Assistant Vice President, Glendale Branches, Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank

F. H. Vesper

The time has been when the word "trust" connected with any business corporation raised a sinister doubt in the minds of those who did not differentiate a trust company from a corporation which was a member of a trust composed of other corporations or individuals for the purpose of restraining or monopolizing trade or otherwise promoting their mutual benefit. With the growth of trust companies and a wider experience with their fiduciary operations no one at all familiar with business conditions now confuses a trust company with a corporation which is a member of a trust. The business world has come to recognize the worth of and need for well organized and managed trust companies.

* * * *

A trust company is a corporation organized under the State law and is a capitalized, responsible institution equipped and authorized to perform fiduciary services of every nature. The qualifications of a trust company to continuously, efficiently and impartially serve its customers and beneficiaries are rarely, if ever, found in any individual. The trust company is not subject to the vicissitudes of human life—it never gets sick, goes out of town, takes a vacation, becomes insane or dies. When appointed to perform a duty there need be no fear but that it will be ready to assume the task and will live to complete it.

* * * *

The Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank has a large capital, is a fixture in the financial life of the community, and is well organized and officered to promptly and properly perform all the duties entrusted to it by the living and the dead. It acts as executor of wills, administrator of estates, guardian of minors and incompetents, custodian of funds, trustee of express trusts, besides performing many other fiduciary acts on behalf of corporations and individuals. The trusts managed by it are created either by will or by agreement. Many persons provide that their property shall go in trust with it when they die, while many others create trusts of their real estate, bonds, stocks and other property during their lifetime.

* * * *

A good banking home is a valuable asset. The business man regards his banking connection as indispensable to the proper management and protection of his affairs. It should be considered as a matter of no small consequence to be well and favorably known at a strong bank. The departments of the bank covering so many activities and meeting so many requirements cannot fail to offer a service to every person who owns or deals in money or property. The officers of the Glendale Avenue Branch and the Brand Boulevard Branch of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank are glad to explain the various functions of the bank and to acquaint a customer with those of its services which would be of value to him. It, therefore, invites consultation on all matters affecting the reader's financial interest.
